Differential By-Pass Valve Type 390 and 391

Dear Marcin,

We refer to your message from 01.02.2006 and we hereby confirm, that the Differential By-Pass Valves Type 390 and 391 are designed and produced for use in heating installations. The valves are produced to keep the pressure level in heating systems or similar installation in a balanced level.

The valves are produced on the strength of product certificate DVGW SQ-9001BM6003.

Best regards
